MAUREL & PROM VENEZUELA

Maurel & Prom needs a plan that governs AI usage, not scattered rules.

Maurel & Prom Venezuela has an active Copilot license within its Microsoft 365 environment, but with no real adoption yet. Its Legal and Compliance team needs AI usage to be governed by clear rules, aligned with its parent company's regulatory framework in France, under a single plan rather than addressed separately.

DIAGNOSIS

01

Maurel & Prom has close to 50 people across 8 areas, between Caracas and Maracaibo, with no formal assessment of AI usage.

02

The team has no clear criteria for what information can or cannot be shared with AI tools.

03

Copilot is already licensed within the Microsoft 365 environment, but with no real adoption or associated training.

04

The parent company in France requires the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Artificial Intelligence Act (AI Act), which Venezuela does not yet have.

05

A plan is missing that connects assessment, training, policy, and innovation, with explicit value at every phase.

THE REAL RISK OF USING AI WITHOUT DATA GOVERNANCE

€35M

MAXIMUM FINE FOR VIOLATING THE EUROPEAN AI LAW

77% of employees who use generative AI already copy and paste company data, and 22% of those pastes include personal or payment information (LayerX, 2025). 40% of enterprise AI systems still have unclear risk under the European Union's Artificial Intelligence Act (AI Act), which requires full compliance starting August 2026. Assessing before scaling, training with clear rules, and formalizing policies aligned with that framework is what connects this 4-phase plan.
